NINE BITTEN BY RABID PUPPY SCHOOLS OPEN WITH FULL ENROLLMENT NAVARRO COTTON CROP PLACED 80,000 BALES

CORSICANA PUBLIC SCHOOLS OPEN FOR CLASSES ON MONDAY

ENROLLMENT HIGHER THAN
FOR ANY TIME DURING PAST FOUR YEARS

With the largest enrollment in the last four years, the 1929-30 sessions of the Corsicana Public Schools were formally opened Monday morning with a total of 2950 students, a gain of 188 over last year, with a major portion of the increase accounted for in the high school.

In spite of a greatly increased enrollment, work started off in the high school with a minimum of confusion, due to the thorough preparations made during the past several days for a capacity crowd.

The high school led the enrollment with a total of 748, with Sam Houston and William B. Travis schools, ranking next with 639 and 487 respectively. The junior high school showed a loss of six when compared with the opening day attendance in 1928, and the Booker T. Washington colored grade school showed a loss of five. All other schools showed a gain.

The enrollment is expected to mount even higher as it is known that a number of children were unable to begin classwork Monday, because of the press of business.

Enrollment in 1926 showed a total of 2802 including 346 in the colored schools, in 1927 this figure was lowered to 2741 with 302 colored.

The body of the negro will likely be forwarded to Tyler late Monday night.

Veteran Texas Lawyer-Leader Dies in Dallas

DALLAS, Sept. 16.—(AP)—C. F. Greenwood, veteran Texas legislator, lawyer and democratic leader, was to be buried here today. Mr. Greenwood, 60, died Saturday. He made speeches in the eastern states for William Jennings Bryan and Woodrow Wilson in their presidential campaigns. He presided twice over Texas democratic conventions. At the time of his death, Mr. Greenwood, regarded as one of the state's ablest constitutional lawyers, was writing a biography of General Sam Houston from first hand material he had gathered from far and wide.

GOVERNOR MOODY EXPECTED TO NAME ATTORNEY GENERAL

NUMEROUS SUGGESTIONS
GIVEN CHIEF EXECUTIVE;
RUMORS ARE RIFE

By F. W. BARRY
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)
AUSTIN, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Governor Moody will appoint an attorney general of Texas today or tomorrow to serve the unexpired term of Claude Pollard, resigned.

Pollard had 15 1/2 months to serve on his second term. He quit to enter private practice, where the remuneration is greater than the $4,000 annually offered by Texas to her chief law enforcement officer.

Gov. Moody, already harassed by suggestions from many sources as to who should fill many vacancies which have materialized during his tenure as chief executive, apparently found it difficult to make a decision.

Early forecasts are that R. L. Bobbitt of Laredo, former speaker of the house of representatives, might be offered the place. The story was told that Mr. Bobbitt, a likely candidate for governor in the primaries of next July, was urged by his friends to become an applicant for attorney general, run for re-election and seek the governorship later.

Calhoun Favored.
Friends of Galloway Calhoun, first assistant attorney general, were confident Governor Moody would reward his long service in the department by appointing him to succeed the chief.

There are now two active candidates for the attorney generalship next July, and several others are thinking about making the race. James V. Allred of Wichita Falls and Representative Cecil Storey of Vernon already are soliciting votes. The arrival of several prospective candidates held a peculiar interest in the governor's appointment, thinking he should not appoint anyone who would be a candidate in 1930.

Others Mentioned.
Others mentioned in mind included W. R. Morris of Austin and Ernest Mays of Fort Worth.

SIXTEEN BEDOUINS
KILLED IN BATTLE
NEAR GALILEAN SEA

NEW OUTBREAK DISTURBS OTHERWISE PEACEFUL AT-MOSPHERE IN PALESTINE

JERUSALEM, Sept. 16.—(AP)—News of a new outbreak at Hattin, near the sea of Galilee, in which raiding Bedouin tribesmen lost 16 dead and many wounded before being dispersed by British military patrols today disturbed the peaceful atmosphere of Palestine where no trouble between Jews and Arabs had been reported for a week.

There was a tendency to regard the affairs as purely local. No fears were entertained that the affair would in any way affect the proposed visit of 200 prominent Egyptian Arabs to Palestine for the purpose of bringing about a reconciliation of the two peoples.

Reports to the Jewish Telegraphic agency stated there was growing feeling among the Egyptian Arabs that the grand mufti of Jerusalem, recognized Moslem leader, was partly responsible for the recent troubles in the country.

Disaffection with the grand mufti was said to be partly due to his alleged failure to fully account for funds raised in Egypt for repatriating the Moslems of Omar.

Generally, conditions seem to be rapidly assuming normal in Palestine. Yesterday Allenby road to Tel Aviv was crowded with the usual week-end promenade like the day before the riots. All the way to the sea there were holiday crowds, and bathers swarmed the beach.

Since the recent disturbances in Palestine and particularly in Jerusalem, the Gate of Damascus open for more than half a century, is closed by the sentries at six-thirty p. m. It was around this famous portal that some of the heaviest fighting occurred recently and to prevent further Arab attacks the British have ordered the gate closed at night.

WORLD ODD FELLOWS ASSEMBLED FOR BIG MEET AT HOUSTON

GOVERNOR MOODY AND OTHERS SCHEDULED DELIVER ADDRESSES MONDAY

HOUSTON, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Three distinguished members of the I. O. O. F., the governor and lieutenant governor of Texas and the congressman from this district, welcomed the world forces of Odd Fellowship and Rebekahism to Houston today for their 105th annual convocation.

Governor Dan Moody, Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller of Dallas, grand master of the lodge of Texas, and Representative Daniel E. Garrett of Houston were the speakers.

The crowd which had arrived today was estimated at 6,000. Organization work was completed and the decks cleared for the business sessions which will last throughout Friday. Preliminaries in the drill, military and degree contests were conducted.

Since the Rebekah officers were elected for two year terms last year and Justice M. M. Logan of Bowling Green, Ky., will be automatically elevated from the post of deputy grand master.

Hotchkiss died as a neighbor, C. N. Melton, newspaper man, called a doctor. Two men and the wife of one of them were held in jail at Silinett, the county seat, in connection with the stabbing.

The victim is survived by his widow and a small child in addition to his parents in Denver, and one sister, Mrs. Sylvia Bissell of Westphalia, Kansas.

BELIEVED ABOUT HALF OF CROP HAS NOW BEEN GINNED

CAREFUL SURVEY OF COUN-TY PLACES ESTIMATE AT AROUND 80,000 BALES

Crop conditions at the present time bear out the prediction of an 80,000 bale cotton crop in Navarro county this year as made through these columns some time ago. According to the official government ginning report there had been 25,740 bales ginned prior to Sept. 1 as compared with 4,379 ginned prior to August 16, a gain of 21,361 bales in the 15 day period. If the same ratio has been maintained during the past 15 days about 46,000 bales have been ginned but there were several days during the past two weeks that the farmers were unable to work on account of the rain. A reasonable estimate of the cotton ginned to the present time would be approximately 40,000 bales and a careful investigation shows that the crop is not more than half gathered.

It is true that in some sections much more than half of the crop has been gathered but in others it is not half out. A large per cent of the cotton is open, more especially on the uplands.

TWO IMPORTANT PROBLEMS FACED LEAGUE NATIONS

WORLD DISARMAMENT AND UNITED STATES OF EUROPE PARAMOUNT MATTERS

GENEVA, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The problem of a hour, world disarmament and the dream of European statesmen, a United States of Europe, faced the assembly of the League of Nations today as it began the third week of its deliberations.

Progress toward disarmament was expected to depend largely upon a resolution to be introduced by Lord Robert Cecil of Great Britain before the preparatory disarmament commission. Lord Cecil's move has aroused considerable excitement in the French press, although it is understood the resolution amounts to little more than a declaration that the British labor government is not necessarily bound by the action of its conservative forerunner and that the question of land forces and reserves must be dealt with ultimately in any general plan of world disarmament.

BODIES CONTINUE BE WASHED UP BY LAKE MICHIGAN

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Lake Michigan today gave up four more bodies of the crew of the freighter Andaste which sank last Monday night while en route from this port to Chicago. The crew of the boat consisted of 24 men and a boy.

The bodies of Ralph Wiley, second engineer, and Captain Charles Brown were found during the week-end.

The first of the four bodies recovered today was taken from the lake about 200 yards south of the south pier here, and two others were found in shallow water about two and one half miles south of here. One body was tentatively identified as that of Theodore Jorgensen of Owen, Wis. Two of the bodies bore life preservers.

The sixth body to come ashore from the wrecked freighter was found this morning off Sunset Terrace, three and one half miles south of here. It has not been identified.

M'ALLEN, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Murder charges had been filed against one man and a second was held today for the fatal stabbing of George Morris of Corpus Christi. The case is to be presented immediately to the grand jury now in session, officers said.

J. C. Baldwin and the second man, friends of Morris, were arrested here last night and when they returned seemed in high spirits. In the scuffle between two men over a woman, Morris was stabbed with an ice pick, the weapon piercing his heart.

Fifteen Hurt In Sewer Blast Newburg N. Y.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Fifteen people were hurt, one probably fatally, in a series of explosions and fires originating in a sewer in Water street here today. Two men and two women, employees at the book store of William S. Greene, were missing an hour after the blast, and firemen were searching the ruins of the building in the belief they had been buried in the wreckage.

SMALL CHILDREN BECOME VICTIMS OF SMALL FAMILY PET

DOG FOUND AFFLICTED WITH RABIES; OTHER CHILDREN
FEARED BITTEN

Nine children are known to have been victims of a two-months-old rabid puppy, and others are thought to have been exposed, in the neighborhood of Joe Palmer's store on the Chatfield road in east Corsicana. The puppy was killed Saturday afternoon and the head sent to Austin; reports received Sunday stated that the animal was afflicted with rabies.

Patrolman Ed Sheets was summoned to the neighborhood Saturday afternoon after the pet had bitten several children and had attacked a chicken. The officer detected signs of rabies in the animal and advised that the dog be shot and the head sent to Austin, and this was followed out. A telegram was received from the Pasteur Institute late Sunday afternoon, asserting that the dog was suffering from rabies.

A drive was started immediately on dogs in this neighborhood and eight were killed Saturday and Sunday, and others were being sought Monday. Owners of valuable dogs in this neighborhood had them under the care of a veterinarian Monday. Cats and other pets

ROGERS TRIAL END IN SIGHT MONDAY; DEFENSE TO REST

REBUTTAL TESTIMONY TO START AFTER CORROBOR- ATION FOR DEFENSE

NEW BRAUNFELS, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The defense in the trial here of Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Rogers rested shortly before 2 p. m. today. Thirty-four witnesses were called by the defense in its effort to prove that the former University of Texas co-ed was insane when she held up and robbed the Farmers' National Bank of Buda, Texas, in 1926.

Reading of testimony by Dr. Livingston Anderson in one of the defendant's three other trials in connection with the robbery, completed the defense testimony.

The state asked and was granted a few minutes to arrange its rebuttal witnesses.

NEW BRAUNFELS, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The end of the trial of Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Rogers, charged with robbing the Farmers' National Bank of Buda, Texas, in 1926, was in sight.

The defense announced it expected to rest its case after introducing testimony to corroborate that of seven mental experts who said they believed the former University of Texas co-ed was insane.

Dr. W. A. Smith, member of the staff of the San Antonio State Hospital for Insane, asserted Mrs. Rogers was the victim of dementia praecox. Several other experts who had examined the defendant testified to this same belief last week.

He was to be followed by Dr. Frederick Pink, member of a San Antonio clinic and at one time physician for several members of the jury hearing the case when he conducted a practice in New Braunfels.

LOCAL PLANT IS PREPARING PLACE TAMALES ON MARKET

LYMAN'S PURE FOOD PRODUCTS COMPANY PUTS OUT NEW AND EDIBLE FOOD

After patient experimenting for more than three years, success has crowned their efforts and within the next few days "Lyman's Wolf Brand Tamales" will be placed on the market by the Lyman's Pure Food Products company, according to an announcement made Saturday by Frederick Slauson, manager of the company.

The plant located on South Main street has been running at full speed preparing for the initial shipment of more than 100,000 cans of the new companion product to the chili that has become a pronounced favorite on the Southwestern markets. Several thousand dollars have been invested in equipment for the new enterprise, and the plant is entirely modern.

After the meat for the tamales has been ground, no hand touches the product until the labeled cans are placed in the cases, all other operations being carried on by sanitary mechanical processes.

In the mixing room on the second floor of the factory, the mush outer layer is cooked and seasoned, the meat ground and mixed, preparatory to the actual forming of the tamales. Only the best quality of packing house meats are used in the products, and the highest grade of spices are used for seasoning. The manufacturers are presenting a mildly seasoned product which has proven the favorite to most users.

Special hopper equipment has been installed to convey the meat and meat through separate channels to the first floor where the actual construction of the tamales takes place. By means of a special machine, the raw meat core is given uniform lengths, ready to be placed in the can. The machine is constructed in such a manner that the thickness of the center covering may be readily regulated.

Expert attendants take the tamales from an endless chain on long hooks and place them in the lined containers that have been sterilized with live steam. The cans are then filled with a special gravy and the cans sealed.

The cans are then placed in pressure steam cookers and kept under high temperature for fifty minutes, then doused into cold water to stop the cooking action, and are finally placed in the long packing shed and allowed to remain on the concrete floor for twenty-four hours before being labeled and packed.

Many Recipes Tested

Members being carried out were visitors at the plant Saturday and watched the manufacturing process closely preparatory to starting over their territories with the new product.

About 180 different recipes for tamales were tested thoroughly before the formula was finally adopted by the local manufacturers. The plant has a cooking capacity of about 9,000 cans of tamales a day, and a canning capacity of about 20,000.

CORING IS UNDER WAY IN STEUBENRACH TEST NORTH MEXIA

IS OFFSET TO TRINITY SANDS TEST DRILLED ON SAME TRACT OVER YEAR AGO

Coring was under way on the C. F. Lytle test on the Steubenrach tract north of Mexia below the 3940 foot level Thursday and the process will be continued past the 4,000 foot mark according to information received in Corsicana Friday.

This test is an offset to the well drilled to the 6,000 feet depth on the same tract more than a year ago which came in with a tremendous flow of wet gas and was used as a commercial producer for a short time until the hole finally sanded up. A good show of sand had been found about the 6,000 foot level and efforts were being made to complete the test when a string of casing slipped as it was being lowered into the hole and completely screwed so that it was impossible to finish the test.

A few months later C. F. Lytle and others put down a test on an adjoining tract but little or no oil was believed that the Trinity sand will be the successor but the various strata of this formation have never been penetrated and operators are waiting for the satisfaction of many.

Twenty-four hour shifts are being run on the test to complete it as rapidly as possible.

TARRANT COUNTY BAPTISTS BELIEVE GAMBLING IMPENDS

FORT WORTH, Sept. 14.—(P)—Declaring that a movement had been started to revive race track gambling in Texas with headquarters in Tarrant county, members of the Tarrant County Baptist association adopted a resolution at its closing session at Grapevine, Tex., Sept. 13, pledging themselves to oppose any candidates in the 1930 state political races who do not speak out against race tracks and the pernicious system of betting.

The resolution was prepared and presented by Rev. J. H. Skidmore, pastor of Calvary Baptist church. The resolution as he presented it condemned all law violations and lax enforcement, including race track gambling. Rev. W. T. Rouse, pastor of the Arlington Baptist church, asked that the resolution be amended to "pledge members of the association to oppose any candidate who would not speak out against race track gambling."

MRS. A. H. WILLIE IS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF UNITED DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY FOR ENSUING YEAR

After two months' vacation during the hot summer months, the United Daughters of the Confederacy held their first business session at the Navarro Hotel Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock with a large number of members and friends present—the membership numbering twenty-nine, with three visitors.

Mrs. C. D. Speed, retiring president of the local chapter U. D. C. presided and gave an interesting resume of the year's work, particularly giving emphasis to the prime reason for its organization of the Daughters of the Confederacy—the care of the living aged veterans of the confederacy, and the perpetuation of the valor and bravery of those heroes of grey who gave their lives for cherished Southern ideals.

Mrs. Speed spoke of the loyalty and cooperation of her corps of officers, thanking them for their faithfulness in a kindly manner. She also paid a beautiful tribute to our deceased member, Mrs. J. W. Cheney, speaking of the help and inspiration that had come to the U. D. C. from the association and unselfish service of the life of Mrs. Cheney. Tender tributes were given by several other members to the memory of this beloved Southern woman.

Important Business

The two principal objects of interest for the business meeting was the election of officers for the coming year, and the naming of delegates to the state and general conventions of U. D. C. meeting in the fall months. The 33rd state convention will be held at Tyler, Tex., beginning October 23, with the Mollie E. Moore Davis chapter as hostess, and the general convention at Biloxi, Mississippi some time in December. A large number expressed a desire to attend these meetings, especially the state convention at Tyler, and the following delegates and alternates were elected. For the state convention: Delegates—Mrs. E. J. Jeffers, Mrs. Cora Johnson, Mrs. W. O. Wilkerson and Mrs. J. A. Sanders. Alternates—Mrs. J. A. Townsend, Mrs. E. W. Varnell, Mrs. Ora Tvey and Mrs. M. L. D. Adams. For the general convention: Delegates—Mrs. C. D. Speed, Mrs. J. A. Townsend, Mrs. J. V. Noble, and Mrs. W. O. Wilkerson. Alternates—Mrs. Ben Blackmon, Mrs. Arthur Elliott and Mrs. E. O. Vaughn.

New Officers

The following officers were elected to carry on the work of U. D. C. for the ensuing year:

Mrs. A. H. Willie, president.

Mrs. J. A. Sanders, first vice-president.

Miss Allie Johnson, second vice-president.

Mrs. Frank Kerr, third vice-president.

Mrs. W. A. Hammett, treasurer.

Mrs. W. O. Wilkerson, registrar.

Mrs. R. D. Burrow, recording secretary.

Mrs. W. H. Milam, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. J. A. Townsend, custodian.

Mrs. Geo. T. Jester, recorder of crosses.

Mrs. Hal M. Peck, poet laureate.

Miss Lida Lea, chaplain.

Mrs. H. F. Marr, historian.

Mrs. A. H. Willie, the newly elected president, has demonstrated her efficiency as a leader and executive during her two years' service of first vice-president and chairman of the ways and means committee of the U. D. C. and the chapter is indeed fortunate to have Mrs. Willie as their new president. She is an unselfish worker, capable of meeting the arduous duties that are placed upon a president of the U. D. C. and also possesses a charming personality and cheerful spirit that commands the admiration and cooperation of the chapter.

Mrs. Willie accepted the presidency with a few words of sincere thanks for the honor bestowed upon her, and promises with the help of her officers and friends to promote the interest of the organization, maintaining the high standard of efficiency that Navarro chapter has always held. The chapter gave a rising vote of appreciation for the services and influence of the retiring president, Mrs. Speed. Several members, with a few remarks, expressed their love and deep devotion for the past president and regret to know that she will be absent a great deal of the time from the chapter, as part of her time is spent in the Rio Grande valley. Mrs. Speed has been a loyal, tireless worker for the organization, and has endeared herself to the entire membership and the Confederate veterans.

CORSICANANS WILL JOIN AEROCADE IN BIG LOCAL PLANE

List of the occupants of the plane "Miss Corsicana" which will join the Fort Worth aerocade on its jump through Texas and old Mexico will probably be announced the early part of next week, C. M. Boynton, vice-chairman of the aviation committee of the Corsicana chamber of commerce announced Saturday.

According to information received from Fort Worth, number of planes in the aerocade will give free rides during the time the party is visiting Corsicana. The Fort Worth group will be in Corsicana on September 20 on its way south. A meeting of the aviation committee will probably be called early next week to complete arrangements for the entertainment of the visitors. Chairman W. C. Struba was expected to return from Colorado Saturday night.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR PIONEER KERENS RESIDENT SUNDAY

Funeral services for A. A. Dobbs, 77, pioneer resident of the Kerens community, who died in the Navarro county hospital Saturday morning, were held Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock from the Kerens Presbyterian church with interment in the Basette cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. Joe Everhard, Presbyterian minister of Kerens.

Mr. Dobbs was born in Mississippi but moved to the Kerens community when a small child. He has resided in that section since that time with the exception of a few years spent at Canyon, Texas. Surviving are his wife, one son, Miss Adelaide Dobbins, Dallas; one sister, Mrs. H. S. Mcleary, Corsicana; four nephews, and other relatives.

The funeral was directed by the Corley-McMahon Funeral Home.

COMMANDER U. C. V. FEELS ACTION G. A. R. UNAMERICAN; DISCUSSES JOINT REUNION

LUBBOCK, Sept. 14.—(P)—Richard A. Sneed, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, expressed gratification here today over the favorable comment by John Reese, past commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, for a joint reunion of the Northern and Southern veterans of the civil war.

"I am pleased that Mr. Reese, in the face of the last encampment's action of disapproving a reunion, has taken the noble stand for unity," Mr. Sneed said.

The 84-year-old veteran told the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal that he "stated, without any animosity whatever, that action of the G. A. R. encampment in rejecting the resolution for the proposed reunion is characteristically un-American."

"I have repeatedly said that I have no ill feeling toward the Northern veterans. Their action, however, following our endorsement of the resolution which originated in their ranks, is not representative of the good spirit of that group as a whole, in my opinion."

"Since the Union soldiers were the invaders and the victors, I think the G. A. R. should initiate the steps toward unity. I am sure that such action would have the support of every true son of the South."

"Sixty-four years have been a long time to await true settlement of a family quarrel. A gathering of veterans of both groups should have been held in brotherly spirit before our children came into the world to have us recall the strife. For the sake of our children and the flag of our country we should unite."

The veteran, who is state treasurer of Oklahoma, announced he would return to his home in Oklahoma City today. He had been visiting a daughter here.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 14.—(P)—Confederate veterans of Fort Worth refer with some resentment to the debate at the encampment of the grand army of the Republic of Portland, Maine. They object particularly to remarks of a New Jersey veteran of the North about pursuing the Confederate flags in museums.

"When the Confederate flags are folded and buried in museums and every figure that wore the gray in the Civil war lies buried beneath Dixie soil, there will be no necessity of arguing over a reunion of the G. A. R. and the U. C. V.," one of the veterans said.

Major K. M. Van Zandt, once commander of the United Confederate veterans, said he had favored such a reunion, but would be the last to bury the Confederate flag.

SEASON TICKETS SALES INCREASES TEAM LOOKS GOOD

FIRST GAME WILL BE PLAY-ED HERE NEXT FRIDAY
WITH ENNIS

The first scrimmage for the Tigers was held at Municipal Park Friday afternoon and the boys looked up as well as the mentors expected due to the intense heat and the short time the team has been practicing. No practice period was scheduled Saturday afternoon and Monday the final week of training will be started. The game here Friday afternoon with the Ennis Lions, the only Class B team which will appear on the Tigers' schedule.

No scrimmage will be given the Tigers next week.

The Tiger line is beginning to look like a real line with plenty of big boys out there. A number of writings are to be turned out, but the line looks like the making of an effective and solid front wall,
the first requisite for a good grid machine. In the backfield the boys are beginning to look much better and plenty of action is expected.

Coach John Pierce stated Saturday morning that the game with Ennis would start at 4 o'clock, due to the hot weather which is likely.
Officials for the game will be
John P. Garitty, Texas A.
& M. College, referee; O. T. Chapman (Texas A. & M. College) headlinesman; Zeubie Howell (Trinity) umpire.

The sale of season tickets for the six games to be played in Corsicana is better than ever before, but Coach Pierce said, but the students in charge of the soliciting have not seen nearly all the fans and are one desiring to purchase a season ticket are asked to call at the High school office and one will be sent them. Some of the students said the tickets will be made up turned in approximately $100. The sale for tickets to the students has not been made to any extent, but a rush in this department will be made next week when school begins. Those who do not secure their tickets prior to the game Friday with Ennis can secure them at that game. The tickets will be sent after the Ennis game, but no reduction will be made. Free price, officials have pointed out.

Advance indications point to the largest sale of season tickets in the history of the High school.

The students' tickets will be $1.75
and the adults $3.50 for the following six games—Ennis, Greenville, Athens, Allen Academy, Hillsboro
and Waxahachie.

MEXIA GUN CLUB VOTES TO WIDEN ITS SCOPE; CHANGE NAME

MEXIA, Sept. 13.—(SP)—Change of the name of the Mexia Gun club
to the Bi-Stone Skeeet and Gun Club has been decided by the former organization, and steps are being taken to incorporate under the new name will be taken immediately.

The membership and properties of the Mexia club will be transferred to the new organization, and membership will be widened to take in shooters of both Limestone and Freestone counties.

Steps for skeet will be installed at once. The skeet traps are a double trap arrangement, with circular stands. The shooter calls
"pull" with his gun at his waist, and may be called on to fire at a bird from either of two traps. Before he shoots from all stands he will have been called on to shoot from all angles and on the last stand he must call "pull" with his hand to the trap.

W. M. Eubanks is president of the club, Reid Partlow, secretary-treasurer, and C. E. Christie, field captain. Two Friday shoots and two Sunday shoots are held each month.

FRANK O'DOUL IS LEADING BABE HERMAN NATIONAL LOOP FONSECA IS CROWDING FOX

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(P)— Gains made through the week ending Wednesday by Frank O'Doul, left the Philadelphia outfielder with a lead in the batting average over Babe Herman of Brooklyn over their struggle for National League batting honors. O'Doul led by .386 to .389 in figures issued today. The leading pitcher of last Wednesday, where last week the Philadelphia trailed by a fraction of a point.

Bill Terry held points behind the second of his two rivals, still in the running, but minus a point through the rest of the route if he is to finish one-two. His average is .378.

Other leading regulars: Horns-
by, Chicago, .376; Stephenson, Chicago, .364; Traynor, Pittsburgh,
.362; L. Waner, Pittsburgh, .356;
Klein, Philadelphia, .351; Cuyler,
Chicago, .349; and Douthitt, St.
Louis, .348.

Phillie Has 220 Hits.
In addition to topping the batting line, Phil has led total hits at 220. Hornsby sets the pace in runs scored with 138; and his teammate Hack Wilson is in the van with 141 runs batted in. Wilson is tied with Chuck Klein in home runs, each having 38.

Frederick remains ahead with 43 doubles, and Lloyd Waner holds honors in triples with 36. Cuyler sets the base stealing pace with 36.
Guy Bush, Chicago, ace, leads pitchers with 13 victories and four defeats for a mark of .818, followed by his teammate, Charlie Root, who has won 16 games and lost five for a .762. Burelign Grimes chopped his third place after being displaced by the giants last Wednesday. His record is 17 and 6 for a .739. Carl Mays technically is second in the pitchers standing with seven victories and two defeats, but of course cannot qualify with the league workhorse as a regular. Mays has pitched only one complete game.

Philadelphia continues in the lead with 13 victories and 308, but now has an edge of but one point
over its two 300-class rivals, Pittsburgh and Chicago, which are tied for second place. The Giants are fourth with 296. Chicago lead in runs, leading with 977 one point above the Giants and the Reds who are tied for second.

Cleburne Jackets in Loss Opening Contest With Masonic Home

CLEBURNE, Sept. 16.—Cleburne
High school's Yellow Jackets, crestfallen that they should lose their first game of the season, were back at work Saturday in an effort to get in shape for the second encounter with the State Orphan's home at Corsicana.

The Yellow Jackets, doped to win easily, were thoroughly outplayed for three quarters here Friday by Masonic home and bowed in the opening tilt for the first time in history. The score was 6 to 0 as McFadden received a pass from Shaw in the third period to put the ball across.

Cleburne High was ragged in its work and sluggish until the last quarter. The Jacket plays went wrong entirely too often and they fumbled at crucial times. In the fourth period, with the ball on the Masons' one foot line, a fumble sent the ball to the visitors and they got out of danger.

The Yellow Jackets could gain but little ground on line plays or end runs.

Roaming the Realm — Of — County Sports

By DELMORE OLSEN

The Fairfield baseball team, champions of the Bi-Stone County Baseball league, took the first of a three game series to determine the tri-county championship game the Magnolia Millers 2 and Sunday afternoon. Both Wilson and Lyman pitched splendid ball, each allowing about a half-dozen safeties, but bunched hits in the third and eighth spells victory for the Freestone-Limestone county champions.

The next game is scheduled for Sunday afternoon in the Municipal Park. The Magnolia Millers are confident that they can turn back the visitors when playing in the home of the league. The series.
If such is the case, the site of the third and deciding game will be determined by the toss of a coin.

According to press reports from Waxahachie concerning the Trinity University football players, the name of Max Lowery, center on 1927 Corsicana football team, appears as one of the candidates having his position clinched. The big boy could play center in high school with additional weight picked up in the last year or so,
should make a valuable player.

Oscar Bird, basketball player of note during the season of 1928
on the Corsicana high school team, left Saturday afternoon to enter Centenary College at Shreveport.

During the past two years, he has played with the Yellow Tiger angles and has shown a great deal of improvement. He should make a star in intercollegiate competition.

For the first time in the history of the school, the Cleburne Yellow Jackets led the initial game of the season. The scoring team from the Masonic Home completely outplayed the heavier Cleburne team and won a well deserved 6-0 victory.

Heartened by the news of Cleburne's defeat last Friday afternoon, the State Home Lads are hoping to get into condition for the coming fray with the Yellow Jackets in Cleburne next Friday.

In the game last year, the semifinalists in the State football race were held to a big score and at the Cleburne bunch does not approve in the next few days, the Lads will have a good chance to get revenge for the defeat last fall.

The I. O. O. F. eleven is awaiting anxiously for Friday when they open the football season against the powerful Cleburne team on the Odd Fellows gridiron.
The Odd Fellows team is composed of veterans and have the brightest prospects of any team put out by that institution for some time. Several strong class B schools in Navarro county and nearby towns appear on their schedule.

In the feature attraction for football fans in this section of the county is the game between the Corsicana White Sox and the Ennis Lions on Saturday afternoon. This game will give the football hungry fans their first look at the 1929 football machine fashioned by Coaches Pierce and Jefferies.

"GREATEST PLAYER" PROBABLY THROUGH AS CHICAGO MEMBER

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—(P)—Charles Arthur Shires, White Sox first baseman, probably has Shires his last sock at a Sox. Manager Lena Blackburne indicated at Philadelphia today he was fed up on receiving Shires punches.

Shires was suspended last night
for violation of the training rules
after he and Blackburne had engaged in fistfuffs. Lou Barbour, club secretary, was sought to be a peacemaker, came out with a cut lip.

Blackburne, according to dispatches from Philadelphia, sought to reprimand Shires for breaking training rules. Action started forthwith.

Manager Blackburne indicated Shires would be ordered home at once. There was a feeling that this meant strike three for Shires as a White Sox player. It was his third suspension this season, the second time he and Blackburne had faced each other with their fists doubled.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14.—(P)— Art Shires, first baseman of the Chicago White Sox, who was sus-

here last night, might not be

"So far as I know," declared Barbour, "he is through for the again. I'm not sure what the final disposition of this case will be, however."

GREEN IS EXPECTED AID IN SETTLEMENT STRIKE CONTROVERSY

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 14.—(P)—
Officials of New Orleans Public Service today were looking to William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, to untangle the controversy over settlement of the New Orleans traction strike.

A. B. Paterson, vice president of the company, who framed a tentative agreement with Mr. Green in New York, which the strikers rejected, said he had notified Mr.
Green that public service was leaving "matter of settlement open at his request."

their terrorization of street cars operated by non-union men. Dur-

two charges of explosives, but no damage was done.

WOMAN DIES FROM PISTOL WOUNDS AT EARLY HOUR SUNDAY

FUNERAL SERVICES MONDAY AFTERNOON FOR MRS.
OLLIE ROBINSON

Funeral services for Mrs. Ollie Robinson, 67, wife of J. E. Robinson, 721 West Eighth avenue, who died of gunshot wounds Sunday morning after 9 o'clock, were held from the family residence Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock with interment in Oakwood cemetery. The funeral was conducted by Rev. J. Hines, minister of the Church of Christ, and Rev. James F. Aaron, of the Church of the Nazarene. A shot was heard and members of the family rushed in the room and found the body lying on the floor. A .38 calibre pistol was found near the body. The bullet entered the left side of the head just above the temple and emerged behind the right ear. The spent bullet was found in the room. S. B. Jordan, justice of the peace, viewed the body and turned in a coroner's report of death by gunshot wounds, self-inflicted.

Mrs. Robinson had been in ill health for some time. Prior to moving to Corsicana about fifteen years ago, the family resided in Hempstead. Surviving are her husband, five daughters, Mrs. W. L. Nichols, Corsicana; Mrs. Eddie Lynch, Hempstead; Mrs. May Clark, Greenville; Mrs. D. M. Wynn; Mrs. George R. Salles, California.

The funeral was directed by the Corley-McMahon Funeral Home.

SLAYING OF WOMAN STRIKER BRINGS NEW TROUBLE TO COURTS

FIVE TRIALS AND HEARINGS SCHEDULED GROWING OUT
TEXTILE STRIKE

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 16.—(P)—The courts today disposed of one of the cases arising from disturbances precipitated by the Carolina textile strike and resumed hearings in a second. Eight labor leaders were charged with conspiring to overthrow the state government on motion of the city solicitor in recorder's court here while Superior Judge J. Shaw continued his investigation of the mob violence of September 9.

The eight men against whom the case was nolle prossed included C. D. Saylor and C. M. Lell, who were kidnapped while on duty by the mob, whose activities Judge Shaw is investigating. Wells was severely beaten.

Defense testimony in Judge Shaw's inquiry again today centered on the establishment of alibis for the 14 men accused of participating in the abduction and flogging.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 16.—(P)—The charge of conspiracy to overthrow the state government referred last Friday against eight textile union workers and communists was nolle prossed when they appeared in city recorder's court today for preliminary hearing.

City Solicitor Oliver Litaker told City Recorder E. M. Currie that the warrant had been withdrawn. A. E. Justice, who had been retained to assist in prosecuting the men, told the judge that for some reason the state had been unable to secure the needed evidence.

The men were C. M. Lell, C. D. Saylor, George Saul, Paul Sheppard, Taylor Shytle, Dewey Martin, John Gibson and Ebley Ritch.

Seven of the men were arrested at a rooming house here Thursday night and a quantity of arms and ammunition was seized. The eighth man, Saylor, was taken into custody some hours later.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 16.—(P)—The slaying of a woman active in strikers' relief work during Saturday's mob activities against communists and labor organizers, with the subsequent arrest of seven men, has brought further complications to North Carolina courts, which now have before them five trials and hearings growing out of mob violence in textile mill strikes.

Officials and workers of the communist party and the National Textile Workers' Union who stated after the mob flogging and kidnapping of some of their members that they had heard threats against their lives from self-styled "anti-communists" have added a police charge of shifting from hotel to hotel elsewhere, keeping their whereabouts a secret. Several attorneys active in the strike cases have moved from their homes to hotels where they stay their rooms from night to night.

To Hold Mass Funeral
Considerable attention was drawn today to announcement that the international labor defense would hold a mass funeral for Mrs. Ella May Wiggins, shot to death during the mob frenzy Saturday. Liston M. Oak, of New York, publicity director of the organization, said a sign would be placed on the house where the body lay, reading: "Ella May, slaughtered by the Bosses' Black Hundred, martyr to the cause of organized labor."

Interest in the case against the 47 persons under charges in connection with strike violence centered in the resumption here today of hearings, one involving 4 alleged anti-communist members of last Monday's mob which flogged one union man and kidnapped two others, and the other involving eight communists and union members charged with conspiring to overthrow the state government in North Carolina. A third hearing in Gastonia concerned two unionists arrested on charges of carrying concealed weapons, was set in Gastonia.

Dapper Walker and Fighting LaGuardia Enliven N. Y. Fight

Mayor James J. Walker (right), Tammany candidate, seeks re-election as mayor of New York in the fall election. Pitted against him is Rep. Fiorello H. LaGuardia, unofficial republican candidate.

By DONALD C. BOLLES
Associated Press Feature Writer
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(P)—Is gradually penetrating the inner consciousness of New York's citizens that they have a fight to settle in picking the next occupant of the mayor's chair.

At least the signs by which such things are judged point that way, now that the battle lines for the mayoralty campaign have been drawn. A scrap between a son of Ireland and one whose ancestors hail from Italy should equal in intensity anything the prize ring develops.

And that is exactly what is in the offing.

It's dapper, witty James J. Walker, who wears the colors of Tammany, against Fiorello H. LaGuardia, fighting liberal congressman, in whose veins flows the blood of Italian ancestors.

The mayoralty campaign will be another test of Tammany. It is 12 years since anti-Tammany candidate was successful in overcoming the Tammany organization. John Purroy Mitchell was the last and LaGuardia hopes to be the next.

In securing the unofficial nomination of the republicans to test strength with Tammany, LaGuardia fulfilled an ambition which he has nurtured for many years. Schooled in the art of battle, both in the army and the political ring, he meets a worthy foe in the champion of the Tammany organization.

Four years ago Jimmy Walker, lawyer, sportsman and politician, gained the mayor's chair after routing John F. Hyland, seeking nomination as the official Tammany candidate.

In the four years in which he has drawn his pay check from the city, which by the way totals $25,000 a year, Jimmy Walker probably has become known personally to more people than any of his predecessors.

His wandering feet have carried him to many climes and he has raised welcoming of visitors to a rite. His radiant personality; his quick wit and faultless sartorial

FAMOUS CRIMINAL IDENTIFICATIONIST SLAIN IN OFFICE

PARIS, Sept. 16.—(P)—Henri Bayle, director of the identification service of the French Ministry of Justice and famous as an anthropometrist, was found slain in his office today.

Bayle, who was considered the successor of Bertillon in the work of identification and measurement of the human body, made important discoveries in connection with his work of identifying criminals. It was he who developed the science of identifying paintings and works of art by the X-ray method. Police arrested a man named Joseph Philip O'Neill who is said to have confessed to shooting the famous police official for giving "dishonest" testimony in a case in which O'Neill was involved.

ALLEGED COTTON SEED TRUST WILL BE INVESTIGATED

TEXARKANA, Sept. 16.—(P)—Facts sufficient to justify a thorough investigation of an alleged "cotton seed trust" among North-east Texas cotton oil mills were gathered here in interviews today. Jack Blalock, assistant attorney general, said.

The attorney was unable to confer with Congressman Wright Patman, whose attack on the alleged "trust" gained the attention of the attorney general's department. The congressman was reported in Dallas.

Blalock said the attorney general's department, under supervision of Galloway Calhoun, first assistant, had launched similar investigations of the cotton seed industry in several other sections of the state prior to Patman's disclosures.

CORSICANA, TEX., SEPT. 17, 1929

THE ROOSEVELTIAN ISSUE.

Time, place and man met at the big day of the New York state fair at Syracuse, when Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt took the opportunity to discuss rural telephone and electric current rates, to plead for a nearer approach to the uniform charge theory of railroad rates, correcting the present system of regional differentiation, and to raise pertinent question as to the benefits of "mergers" to the consumers. He said:

"Very recently the greatest part of all the electric companies in the state of New York were merged into three holding companies, and within the past few months these three great holding companies have been merged into one colossal holding company. That holding company controls today over three-quarters of the entire area of the State of New York.

"The first question to ask is whether the savings which have been promised in management and in overhead by the merger will be translated into four practical results: First, better service; second, cheaper and more uniform installation costs; third, definitely and materially lower rates for the use of the electricity in the homes, and finally a complete reorganization and simplification of the most complicated and impossible series of contracts between householders and the company which the legal profession has invented in all its history."

With more of the typical Roosevelt fibre in his make-up than any other member of that family now prominently in the public eye, the Governor of New York apparently has found this condition of exploited public service an issue much to his liking.

The questions he asks are pertinent and proper. Moreover, they are being asked by consumers in such increasing numbers that ultimately the interrogating force may be sufficient to demand an answer and if it is not favorable to insist upon a remedy.

The greater efficiency of co-ordinated or consolidated electric enterprise is admitted without question. It is bringing added convenience within reach of the homes of large numbers and at the same time it is bringing new fields of profitable opportunity to the promoters. The measure of the latter benefit, at least as anticipated is afforded by the rapid rise of values in the securities of public service companies involved in these mergers. It is only natural for the consumers, present and prospective, to inquire whether the cream is all to be taken for the dividend requirements of this great security expansion while the consumers are expected to remain content with skimmed milk.

The moth is passe so far as damage to clothes is concerned is the opinion of one man who specializes in the art of clothing renovation. "It's the boll weevil we have to guard against now when the out of season wearing apparel is packed away," was his message to the world of science intimating that more cotton was used than wool in the manufacture of the fabrics which drape the human form during the cold weather. All of which should bring much joy to the cotton farmer even if the moth is without food.

HYGIENIC CONDITIONS IMPORTANT.

Parents should realize that the school buildings is the child's second home, and it behooves all of us to study and improve the surroundings of the child at school. The location of a school building is important. It should be so placed as to be readily accessible to groups of children. The dangers of traffic now have an important bearing on school location. There should be no nearby nuisance, such as railroads, abattoirs, factories, and similar conditions. The grounds should be well drained and the play area should be surfaced so as to be free from mud on wet days. In the grade schools there should be a minimum of 50 square feet of play area for each pupil, and additional ground space for gardens is highly desirable. Trees are not to be considered a necessity on the school grounds. They should never be near enough to the building to cast a shadow over the windows. Landscaping should, of course, be done if there is room, but this should not be given preference to the exclusion of playgrounds.

The exterior of the building should be planned to be as attractive as possible without interfering with the natural illumination of the rooms. No grade school should have more than three floors. Of course the building should be fireproof. The halls should be wide and have as much natural ventilation and illumination as possible. The exits from the building should be wide and it is very important that all doors in the building—in the rooms, in the halls, and to the outside, should open outward. The doors leading from the building should be equipped with automatic foot-proof devices which will open the door when pushed by any child. The reason for this is to prevent the piling up of children in case of panic. It is notable that in all the disasters of recent years in school buildings the great loss of life has been due to this piling up, either behind locked doors or in narrow stairways. The hallways should be well lighted and always have some natural illumination. The furnace should have fireproof walls, ceiling and doors.

Pure drinking water should be available in all schools. Of course the drinking fountain is the sanitary way to provide drinking water for children. The fountain should never be located in toilet rooms; the corridor is the preferable location. One fountain to about 50 children is the best proportion. The type of fountain is very important. Many schools provide fountains which are as unsanitary as the common drinking cup. The only satisfactory fountain is the type which sends the water from the side of the bubbler and delivers the stream obliquely. Any fountain which permits the child to cover the bubbler with his lips is to be condemned.

If the proper drinking fountain can not be provided, then paper cups should be used. If the ready-made paper cups are too expensive, children can readily be taught to fold a paper cup. The public's abhorrence of the common drinking cup is well established and deservedly so.

Toilet and washing facilities should be of best type and are to be kept in the best condition possible. It is necessary to teach the child to keep the toilet rooms as clean as the home bathroom.

When possible, wash bowls with hot water and a supply of liquid soap should be provided in every toilet room. One bowl to each 20 children is the minimum number. The bowls should be the proper height from the floor for children's use. Up to the present time the paper towel is the only satisfactory drying material available for schools.

If children are to learn the fundamental health habit of the proper care of the hands, the lavatory facilities should be kept attractive. This requires the close attention of the teachers and janitor.

Toilet rooms should be well ventilated and should

INFANT DEATHS.

In the rate of infant deaths, the year 1928 shows a slight increase over the year 1927, according to the report on Infant Mortality just issued by the American Child Health Association. In the year 1927 the United States achieved the lowest rate ever recorded, 64.9, and last year the figure 68.3 shows the second lowest rate. This means that for every thousand babies born alive, approximately 68 infants under one year of age died.

The report is based on the study of 729 cities with a population of 10,000 or more as recorded in the 1920 census. Seven hundred and nineteen of these cities lie in the Birth and Death Registration Areas and ten of them in the part of the country that has entered the Death but not the Birth Registration Area. They are scattered in forty-four states and the District of Columbia, and, according to the last census, include a population of about forty-four million people.

Of the cities having a population of 250,000 or more, Seattle, Washington, and Portland, Oregon, tie with the lowest rate of 43. San Francisco runs a close second with a rate of 46. Of cities having a population between 100,000 and 250,000, Oakland, California, leads with a rate of 47, and is followed by Spokane, Washington, with a rate of 49; Des Moines, Iowa, and Cambridge, Massachusetts, each with a rate of 53.

Berkeley, California, is first among cities having a population between 50,000 and 100,000, its rate being the very low figure of 31. In this group, Union City, New Jersey, is second with a rate of 32 and Long Beach, California, is third with a rate of 38.

In the net population group of 25,000 to 50,000, Alameda, California, stands first with a rate of 25. Medford, Massachusetts, shows a rate of 30; Oak Park, Illinois, and Everett, Massachusetts, have the rate of 31.

In the next population group—10,000 to 25,000—Holland, Michigan achieved the very low rate of 21; Braintree, Massachusetts, 22; and Stonington, Connecticut, 24.

Though the lowest individual rates are recorded among the less populous cities, yet a comparison of the rates for the various population groups considered as a whole shows the lowest

AN INFALLIBLE SIGN.

Tradition decrees that the straw hat must now go into retirement. Whether it be given a place of honor and optimism on the shelf in the hall press or be tossed into the nearest trash receptacle, it must go. That, so to speak, is the custom. Its observance is flexible.

Since Labor Day the straws have been appearing in steadily diminishing numbers. But they still make a brave showing, either as a concession to sentiment or to the heat of the last few days. Some of them may linger on until the first frost, but their wearers will be marked men. Among the familiar signs of a declining year, there is none more infallible than the passing of the straw hat. And out of it have come picturesque gestures of farewell. They are used to feed the fires of innumerable football rallies. Stranger still, building contractors report that hundreds of faded yellow hats are cast annually into the depths of excavation for skyscrapers.

Some are hopefully laid aside, but few, indeed, are those which are worn a second season.

Ten large cities whose records are available as far back as 1916, were studied to see what the decline in infant deaths had been in the last twelve years. The average rate of these cities in 1916 was 103, whereas, in 1928 the average rate was 71. Translated into lives these figures mean approximately 10,000 babies lived through their first year of life in 1928 who would have died in 1916.

The State of Nevada has been admitted in 1929. It is highly important that the three states not yet included in the Birth and Death Registration Areas should enter them at once. Not until then shall the country really and accurately know its own birth and death rates. Without accurate knowledge of its birth and death rate a state is hampered in its study of the causes of mortality and its work of prevention.

With the opening of the football season crowding the worlds series baseball games for the sport spotlight the average fan must have a strong heart to stand the strain.

COMMUTATION OF DEATH SENTENCE GRANTED TO NEGRO

GOVERNOR MOODY ACTS IN CASE OF BLACK CONDEMNED FOR MURDER

AUSTIN, Sept. 13.—(P)—Governor Moody today commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence of Jesse Charles, Liberty county negro, who was to die in the electric chair early tomorrow.

Governor Moody said the state's principal witness against Charles, who was convicted of the murder of Winfred Knappe, white, at Devers, had made a deathbed statement in which he repudiated the testimony he had given against Charles.

"In view of this information, I do not feel justified in permitting the sentence of death to be carried out," Governor Moody said.

HUNTSVILLE, Sept. 13.—(P)—His fate resting with Governor Moody, Jesse Charles, negro, sat in his death cell at the state penitentiary here today, hoping for a revision of the mandate ordering his electrocution early tomorrow.

Charles' trip to the death chair already has been postponed twice by the chief executive.

The negro's attorneys claimed to have a deathbed confession absolving Charles of all blame in the killing in Liberty county of which he was convicted. They said that Rufus Smith, negro, the state's leading witness against Charles, took the blame for the slaying in a dying statement.

Six members of the trial jury and the county attorney have recommended commutation of the sentence, which is opposed by the district attorney and the sheriff's department. Charles was convicted of murder in the killing of Winfred Knappe, a white man.

Aged Couple Return From Tour of West

"Yes, Sir! Just a young couple out to see the sights!"

"After fifty-two years on their farm in Barry, Navarro county, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Wright decided to take a sight-seeing trip."

"The aged couple—both are over eighty—arrived in San Francisco yesterday morning and were taken around the city."

"Last night they left for their farm again after touring almost the entire west. They visited Colorado, Nevada, Utah, Wyoming and Arizona, and San Francisco was their last stop before returning to Navarro county."

The above appeared in the September 7, issue of the San Francisco Examiner accompanied by a two column cut of Mr. and Mrs. Wright. The couple arrived in Corsicana Friday from their tour of the western states and left this afternoon on the motor for Barry.

Both report a very enjoyable trip although Mr. Wright said the long rides on the train worried him some. However, both are the picture of health.

Mr. Wright talks interesting of the many places he visited with his wife.

BANKERS TO WORK OUT PLAN FEDERAL AID TEXAS FARMERS

HOUSTON, Sept. 13.—(P)—How Texas may take advantage of the federal farm relief act will be the objective of a meeting of a committee of thirty-one bankers of the state, appointed by Governor Moody, to be held here Monday.

The group will consider organization of a stabilization corporation, necessary to procure loans from the farm board for purchasing farm products and controlling a surplus.

A second goal of the committee will be organization of co-operative associations in communities wishing to take advantage of the act since the law requires that stock in the stabilization corporation must be owned by co-operative associations handling the commodity with which the corporation is organized to deal.

The governor is expected to attend the meeting along with Representative Lawrence Westbrook, of Waco, chairman of the legislative committee appointed to co-operate with the farm board, Senator Julian C. Hyer of Fort Worth, member of that committee, Dr. A. B. Cox of the University of Texas, Dr. Gebbard of A. & M., and Victor Schoffelmeyer, agriculturist of the Dallas News.

HAND CRAFT WORK IMPORTANT PART OF CAMP FIRE GIRLS

INTERESTING INFORMATION REGARDING NATIONAL GIRLS ORGANIZATION

Following is the sixth of a series of articles dealing with the Camp Fire Girls organization and its different interests.

One of the most distinctive things about the organization is its interest in and knowledge of Indian symbolism and its application of this native American folk art to decorative art to the thousands of Camp Fire Girls. To many of you this immediately suggests the ceremonial gowns and beaded headbands which you have seen Camp Fire Girls wearing in their group meetings.

The first thing that a girl does is to choose her Indian name (one that suggests some major interest of hers) and to work out a way in which to "write" it in the language which to the Indians it becomes her symbol. She uses this or the separate units of it in her Hand Craft. It is her corner stone, her trade mark, her picturization of the goal toward which she is journeying in her Camp Fire experience.

The Hand Craft and National Honors Department is instructing thousands of Camp Fire Girls and Guardians in the most intelligent and artistic use of their symbols. This is being done by means of exhibits prepared at Headquarters and sent on request to Camp Fire centers, by means of correspondence, and through a monthly page of ideas, cleverly explained, and well illustrated, which appears regularly in Everygirl's.

Through these various forms of Headquarters service the girls learn how to adapt their symbols to a stencil or a linoleum block, how to use them in a rectangle, circle, triangle, and square. They learn the principles involved in adapting them to a border or to an all-surface pattern.

Each year the Camp Fire Girls work out an ingenious project which is their way of celebrating their birthday. The central idea of it is always service. One year Camp Fire Girls took charge of their homes for a week-end, giving their mothers a vacation. Another year the girls beautified their own rooms, or their Camp Fire club rooms or some corner of their homes. In 1927 the project had to do with another phase of beautification. Home lawns, school yards, town and city parks and highways were made more beautiful by the planting of trees. This project received the co-operation of the government.

The 1928 project was concerned with the girls' interests in Home Craft, Citizenship, and Hand Craft. It consisted of making children's clothes for the American Red Cross and the National Needlework Guild to be distributed and used where they are most needed. Many requests for disaster relief had emptied the emergency chests of these organizations and clothes were badly needed. New outfits were made, old clothes were collected, washed, cleaned and made over. Many groups adopted an imaginary family consisting of a very diminutive baby, some just-beginning-to-walk twins, a four year old boy, and a six year old girl, and completely equipped them with all-year-round wardrobes. It is impossible to estimate the value of this special project each year. Through it the organization always gains greatly in friends as well as in new members.

OBITUARY.

On the morning of June 14, 1929, while the breeze was cool and the flowers had their heads turned heavenward, the gates of paradise swung open and received the soul of Mrs. Virginia (Buddy) Sykes. She was born March 4, 1856, making her 73 years, three months and 10 days old. She was married to Mr. A. W. Sykes in 1871. To this union was born eleven children, Mrs. Ida McCulloch and an infant son, preceded her to realms above. Those whom survive are W. J. Sykes, E. D. Sykes and Mrs. Sarah Jane Wiley of Dawson, J. J. Sykes of Blooming Grove, G. W. Sykes and Mrs. Bessie Lance of Corsicana, Mrs. Maggie Hunter of Waco, Mrs. Dollie Rains of Stamford and Mrs. Bettie Johnson of Swinson, all being present except Mrs. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Sykes lived together to see all the children grown and married. On Jan. 14, 1918, Mrs. Sykes went to a mansion prepared for him. She was left to live with the children. "Aunt Genney" as she was called, was sick about two weeks. She bore her suffering and afflictions with patience. She spoke several times of her suffering and hardships would soon be over. She would be at home with her Saviour and loved ones.

She professed faith in Jesus Christ when only just a young girl and joined the Missionary Baptist church. She was a member of the Pleasant Grove Baptist church at the time of her death. She lived and died a consecrated Christian, being just the same all the time. Her children can say that art gone mother, but your prayers will be with us forever. She had a great desire for her children and grandchildren to be saved before it was everlasting too late.

Mr. and Mrs. Sykes with their children came to Texas from Alabama in 1896. She leaves her nine children, 52 grandchildren, 33 great-grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Ellen Holt of Dawson, a host of other relatives and friends to mourn her loss. She will be missed so much in the homes of her children, especially the one where she died, Mrs. Sarah Wiley. Pallbearers were Ed and Gilbert Holt and Zelen Nesmith of Dawson, Poly Thompson, Mr. Bondurant and Mr. Elliott of Corsicana. She was laid to rest by the side of her husband in Brushy Prairie cemetery, "neath a flower covered mound. Her pastor, Rev. H. B. Carroway, and Rev. Good Dawson conducted the funeral services.

NEW PARISH HOUSE OPENED SUNDAY WITH SPECIAL PROGRAM

REGULAR SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASSES TO BE STARTED IN MODERN HOME

The new St. John's Parish Hall was formally opened Sunday morning with a special program furnished by members of the choir of the church, and a short talk by the rector, the Rev. H. J. Ellis. The building was inspected throughout by the large number present and delight was expressed that such a modern, commodious and comfortable building was now at the disposal of the Sunday School and could be used also for other parochial activities. The stage in modern and complete throughout and will be formally dedicated at an early date.

After the members of the Sunday School and others had gathered in the auditorium on the second floor the Rev. Ellis announced that the opening service would be in the nature of a musical feast, and the members of St. John's choir, with Mrs. M. S. Dockum at the piano gave the opening hymn, after which there were prayers of praise and thanksgiving by the Rector. This was followed by an anthem by the choir, "Ring Out Ye Bells of Heaven."

Mrs. Joel Trimble read two most appropriate numbers, "The House by the Side of the Road," by Samuel Walter Foss, and "His Garment," by Edgar A. Guest. Both these numbers were delightfully given and were indeed most appropriate to the occasion. Mrs. Trimble was in excellent voice and gave her readings in a very pleasing manner which added greatly to the morning's program.

Mr. Ellis made a short talk in which he stated that the present occasion was both a happy and a sad one. It was a happy occasion because the church was the dream of many of the parishioners for years had been realized in the beautiful and convenient and commodious building, for which all were duly thankful. It was a sad occasion, he said, for the reason that one who had visualized the structure and had a leading part in its realization had gone to his final reward only a very short while before its final completion. The Rev. Mr. Ellis paid a very high and deserved tribute to Wm. H. Hastings, who was superintendent of St. John's Sunday school at the time of his death, and who was chairman of the building committee that had the work of building the new Parish Hall in charge.

While the congregation stood the Rector offered a prayer of thanks giving for the example set by many who had worked and labored in St. John's Parish for its upbuilding in the years past who had since passed to their reward.

The Rector also urged that the new building be put to the best possible use in order that those who had contributed for its erection might realize the highest dividends upon their investment. The choir, joined by the congregation gave an other hymn and the congregation was dismissed with the request that all who could possibly do so might next Sunday to engage in the Sunday school class work.

The choir of the church gave the musical program in a very pleasing way, and filled the auditorium with melody of the sweetest nature. Beautiful cut flowers were placed at vantage points and added materially to the beauty of the new and prettily decorated building.

FINAL WEEK TRIAL WOMAN ON SECOND DEGREE MURDER MRS. PANTAGES EXPECTED TO KNOW FATE LATTER PART THIS WEEK

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The trial of Mrs. Lois Pantages, charged with the second degree murder of Juro Rokumoto as the result of alleged intoxication and an automobile collision, went into its anticipated final week today with two jurors expected to hear the case.

Both the defense and the prosecution have indicated they hoped to put her fate in the hands of the jury by Friday night, chiefly to make way for another trial. The woman's attorneys are to appear in another superior court a week from today to defend her millionaire husband, Alexander Pantages. The defense magnate goes to trial next Monday on two charges of statutory offense against Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer, who accused him of attacking her in his private office when she sought a bookie's job.

Superior Judge Carlos Hardy said the two jurors who became ill Friday night, were sufficiently recovered to continue the trial.

The judge characterized the illness as nothing serious, saying that "all will be in their places for the reconvening of court."

Minister to Explain.
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy, presiding at the second degree murder trial of Mrs. Alexander Pantages, issued orders today at the opening of court for the Rev. Robert P. Shuler, ordering him to appear at 4 p. m. today to explain his statement that the jury in the case was "hung." Mr. Shuler broadcast the statement by radio last night.

Both served in the attorney general's department when Gov. Moody was attorney general. They are close personal friends of the chief executive.

Moody probably will see the governor announce his appointments to places on the supreme court commission of appeals. Terms of Judges Ogle Speer and Luther Nickels have expired. Judge Speer is still with the commission, but Judge Nickels has retired.

Governor Moody said he had sent the names of the men he had selected for the places to Chief Justice C. M. Cullen for ratification by him and the two associate justices, William Ison and Thomas B. Greenwood, but had not yet obtained a reply.

Moody kept the secret well, and so far as he could find out, he not shared his choice for the places with anyone, unless the lucky two. He has refused to confirm reports that Mayor Walter Monteth of Houston and City Attorney Joseph Ryan of San Antonio would get the places.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Mexico rang today with celebrations by its population, observing the 108th anniversary of Mexican independence from Spanish rule. Celebrations in Guatemala, Salvador, Costa Rica, Honduras and Nicaragua, the day likewise was a national holiday, marking the anniversary of freedom from Spanish rule.

"The Mexican army no longer is the destroyer of liberties, but is the servant of the country and a loyal supporter of its institutions and laws," declared President Portes Gil, in his holiday address to troops on Valbuena military field. "The army today is made up of patriots and men of honor. No longer is the undisciplined horde that in the past was the instrument of force and treason."

The celebrations began yesterday and throughout the night the streets of the capital were thronged with merry makers.

SUBMARINE CABLE USED BY RUNNERS OF ILICIT BOOZE

DETROIT, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The Detroit News today says a submarine cable has been used by rum runners to transport cargoes of liquor from Canada into the United States.

The cable, it says, was discovered and dismantled by border patrol inspectors yesterday. It stretched from Michigan to the Detroit river to the American shore at Ecorse.

"Employing a method approaching in its ingeniousness the much discussed, but mythical, 'pipe line into Canada,' the newsmen says, 'the runners operated a sled which carried from 15 to 20 cases of liquor a trip along a 500 foot cable, while customs crews sped along an apparently level waterway, reported 'all quiet' in the rum war."

Both cable terminals, a boat house and garage in the mainland and a partly submerged boat house on the Michigan side, were discovered and dismantled when inspectors came upon it.

The cable, customs officials said, is believed to have been one of two in use on the river.

HUNTSVILLE, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Mrs. Thomas J. Goree, widow of Col. Thomas J. Goree, distinguished lawyer and an officer on the staff of Gen. Longstreet throughout the war between the states, died at her home here today.

GANGLAND'S LONG ARM REACHES OUT FOR NEW VICTIM

SAMUEL RHEINSTEIN, HIDING IN BOSTON, IS SLAIN IN HOTEL CORRIDORS

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Samuel Rheininstein, 20, supposed New York furrier, who police said had been hiding in this city from the vengeance of New York's gangland for the past three months, was shot and killed in the dimly lighted corridors of the Hotel Huntington today.

So closely had Rheininstein's slayers crept from behind to press their weapons within inches of his head that police for more than an hour believed it a case of suicide. Not until a medical examiner found two bullet holes in the back of the furrier's skull and a search failed to reveal trace of a revolver were they convinced there had been a killing.

Mrs. Rheininstein told police she knew of no reason anyone should desire his death. She said they had come to this city early in July on a "pleasure trip."

Police, however, said an examination of correspondence in their room showed the man had been in hiding. One letter urged him to "stay hidden," while another said, "we will send you plenty."

to have examined Mrs. Rogers after the bank robbery, was to testify also.

Sheriff Rogers, chief of defense counsel and husband of Mrs. Rogers, said testimony of Dr. W. J. Johnson, superintendent of the San Antonio State Hospital, probably would be saved for rebuttal. The superintendent testified for the defense in the defendant's third trial in connection with the robbery at LaGrange.

Sheriff George Allen of San Marcos, who brought Mrs. Rogers from Austin to the Hays county jail the night of the robbery, was here today as the state's first rebuttal witness.

Delay in the trial was encountered when Dr. Anderson failed to reach here. He was believed to have been held up by high waters near Fredericksburg, where he was expected to arrive today.

Dr. Anderson, who was charged with a transcript by the physician in a former trial should not arrive by mid-afternoon.

Only Four Witnesses Remain For Defense

NEW BRAUNFELS, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Rebecca Bradley Rogers, lawyer-husband had but four witnesses to examine before resting the main phase of her insanity defense as her trial for bank robbery resumed today.

Rogers and her two assistants, former classmates in Texas university, had called Drs. W. J. Anderson of the State Insane hospital at San Antonio, which was an assistant physician at the same institution, Livingston Anderson of Corpus Christi and Frederick Finck of San Antonio. They were to have testified for the defense.

The 24-year-old woman was unbalanced mentally when she drew a gun, assertedly empty, on two employees of the Euda Farmers National bank and robbed it of about $1,000 in December, 1928.

Busily coordinating its forces for rebuttal, the prosecution relied on Dr. Joe Winters of Austin, who examined Mrs. Rogers, that she claim, at the request of her counsel, to swear she went into the bank as a collected robber and not as an eccentric young woman who was mentally deficient by heredity and disease.

District Attorney Fred Blundell had intimated that he had a surprise planned, but he wouldn't go into it. He intended to bring Sheriff George Allen of San Marcos, who told in minute detail of the hold up, back to the stand.

MISS LOUISE EDENS.
Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Edens today announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Louise Edens, to Mr. John Dabney Cunningham, the wedding to occur in October.

Miss Edens is a popular member of the younger society set as is Mr. Cunningham. Mr. Cunningham, known to his friends as "Jack," the son of Mr. J. H. Cunningham and a member of the firm of Cunningham Bros.

were also the objects of considerable suspicion.

With the receipt of the telegram from Austin, preparations were started immediately for administering the anti-rabies serum to the victims, who ranged in age from two to eight years. All children in the neighborhood were being questioned in an effort to find other possible victims.

Those who are known to have been victims of the puppy include Donald, Billy, Rudolph and Sam Palmer, Bessie Borsaline, Jack Griffin, Billy Gene and Mary Joe Laester and Wayne Hale.

The puppy belonged to the Palmer children, but was a favorite of all the children in the neighborhood. It was one of a litter, whose mother was killed several days ago after she had shown signs of being diseased. It is thought that she had infected the pups before she was killed.

Grateful to Officer.
Inhabitants of the neighborhood were outspoken Monday morning in their gratitude to Officer Sheets for his prompt action and assistance in the trouble.

The city officer asked the co-operation of the entire city Monday morning in the hunt for the puppy. The disease by reporting all stray dogs and other animals to police headquarters promptly, and by keeping their pets confined and under observation, all danger of infection or development of the disease has passed.

A large number of stray dogs have been killed this year and the officer is making a strenuous effort to rid the city of these undesirable, and has appealed to the public in the interest of the safety of the children of the city to assist him in the work.

CITY TEACHERS IN INSTITUTE MEETING SATURDAY MORNING

Everything was announced ready for the formal opening of the Corsicana public schools Monday. Final instructions were given the faculty at the annual city teachers' institute, which closed Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

While the enrollment at the High school will probably exceed the 1928 opening attendance mark by about 80, Mr. Fillers expressed some doubt as to whether the total enrollment would show an increase over last year's total. Up until Saturday morning 746 schedules had been made out at the High school and 250 more were expected to swell the total by Monday. The opening day attendance last year was 663.

It was announced that all of the grade schools would start Monday morning with a full day session, at which books would be distributed and lessons assigned; work will start in the High school and junior high school at 8:30.

Kindergarten pupils at the Sam Houston school will report Monday morning, while students in the same work at the Robert E. Lee school will not report until Monday afternoon.

Principals Hold Session.
A preliminary meeting of the principals of the various schools was held Friday afternoon at the High school where the year's work was outlined. Superintendent Butler and all of the white teachers in the public school system gathered at the High school for final instructions, outlining of the general policy, and other matters of importance.

Mr. Fillers spoke briefly on "Education," discussing the definition and scope of the word, its action and result, and the constantly changing needs of recent changes in educational methods, and urged the teachers to take advantage of every opportunity for progress and to keep themselves for even greater changes in the future.

Principal W. H. Norwood announced that all students who had not made out schedules prior to the opening day should report at the High school at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon for enrollment.

Following the general assembly of the teaching staff, the faculties of the various schools held meetings to discuss their particular problems.

A. T. Brown, a resident of the Hester community was a Corsicana visitor Monday.

FIVE-POWER NAVAL CONFERENCE MAY BE HELD IN JANUARY

GREAT BRITAIN SUGGESTS
CRUISER STRENGTH BE LISTED
IN TWO DIVISIONS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Secretary Stimson said today recent developments might necessitate holding the five power naval conference in January instead of December.

The state department head explained the necessity of thorough preparation might necessitate postponement of previously announced plans.

Up to the present the thought of diplomatic and naval officials both here and in London have been centered on the naval conference negotiations to obtain a naval understanding between the United States and Great Britain.

When looked at, however, from the broadest view, the conference is a parley in which the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy would participate, it was realized that the preparations for the conference would take longer than had been expected.

Great Britain Makes Cruiser Wants Known

LONDON, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Great Britain desires from the forthcoming naval negotiations at Washington, between the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy, that the cruiser strength of fifty units be divided into two categories, namely those of 8-inch guns and those of 6-inch guns, it was authorized today by the British cabinet.

She maintains that her requirements compel her to divide her 50 cruisers into 15 with 8-inch guns and 35 with 6-inch guns, making a total tonnage of 330,000.

The United States proposal is for 21 eight-inch gun cruisers and 15 six-inch gun cruisers, totaling 315,000 tons. The margin of dispute is a present 15,000 tons, which Britain suggests the United States tonnage should be 300,000.

These facts emanated from a source in intimate touch with Prime Minister MacDonald, who said the main feature of a world agreement on shipbuilding can be secured, it will then be possible to go to the preparatory disarmament commission at Geneva.

In this connection, the British cabinet has agreed on basic differences between the United States and Britain on the question of the 1927 tripartite conference, and Japan has indicated willingness to participate in the new move toward treaty policy.

That treaty covered only capital ships and airplane carriers, whereas the projected conference would include all types of naval vessels and marine strength as well as reductions in the major categories. This extension of scope brings up the question of the Mediterranean, in which the United States and Italy are both intensely interested.

Those two nations accepted a basis of equality with each other insofar as capital ships are concerned, with their ratio of two to one as compared with the British-American-Japanese ratio of 5-5-3. France, however, is understood to desire a higher ratio for submarines and airplane carriers, which is expected to demand equal strength in these categories. It is regarded as doubtful in some quarters France is willing to concede such parity.

Conceding parity, however, in the conference, by agreement, would the five powers as signers of the Washington arms treaty of 1921, would take the place of the 1931 conference which had no authority. Diplomatic circles here, despite reports from abroad, is that London will be selected as the meeting place.

Expect Conference Take Steps Forward

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The naval disarmament discussion is expected to advance this week in the initiation of conversations here and in London looking to the calling of a five-power conference as early as possible.

Success of the expected conference apparently will depend upon the attitude of France and Italy. The United States and Great Britain have agreed on basic differences between the two nations on the question of the 1927 tripartite conference, and Japan has indicated willingness to participate in the new move toward treaty policy.

That treaty covered only capital ships and airplane carriers, whereas the projected conference would include all types of naval vessels and marine strength as well as reductions in the major categories. ored pupils; in 1928 the figures showed an increase with 2762 including 307 negroes; while the total for 1929 was 2927 with 446 negroes.

The enrollment by schools follows: high school 748, junior high school 260, Sam Houston 639, R. E. Lee 313, William B. Travis 457, and Crockett 87, making a total number of white students 2504; in the colored school 356, while the Washington school reported 90, for a total of 446 negroes; and a grand total of 2927.

Receipt was acknowledged at the high school Monday of two books presented by the Navarro Chapter of the United Daughters of the Country, which included "The Story of the South in the Nineties" by Matthew Page Andrews, and "The Collections and Letters of General Lee," by his son, Capt. Union Printers Frown on Labor Party Movement

SEATTLE, Sept. 14.—(AP)—A resolution interpreted by some delegates as a move toward organization of a labor party was voted down decisively yesterday at the convention of the International Typographical Union here.

The resolution urged members of the organization to "sever all affiliations with all political parties of the exploiting class which are constantly encroaching on the rights of working people."

A resolution censuring William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, for participating in a radio program sponsored by the United Fruit Company was adopted. Delegates declared the company had "locked out" the Typographical Union.

BANK STENOGRAPHER TELLS STRANGE TALE OF FAKE TELEGRAMS

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Recommendation that bond for C. D. Waggoner, Telluride, Colo., banker held in jail at New Castle, Wyo., for swindling New York banks out of $500,000, be set at $10,000, was today signed by Albert D. Walton, United States attorney.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 13.—(AP)—E. B. Averill, special operative of the federal bureau of investigation, said today Miss Frances Carlson, 18, stenographer in the Bank of Telluride, told him that "unwittingly" she sent from Denver two of the six fake telegrams by which C. D. Waggoner sought to defraud six New York banks of $500,000.

Miss Carlson is one of the persons subpoenaed by a federal grand jury in New York. Averill arrived here yesterday with Clarence E. Dowd, cashier of the Bank of Telluride, also subpoenaed.

The young woman told the detective she had sent the telegrams from Denver at the request of a woman whom she did not know and who told her it was to be done for Waggoner.

In addition to a signed statement from Miss Carlson, Averill said he had in his possession a "practice sheet" on which the young woman had copied the fake telegrams dictated to her by Waggoner. The sheet, which was headed "Practice sheet," bore the names of the six Denver banks signed to the telegrams that resulted in building up $500,000 credit in New York.

On this sheet the detective reviewed the messages dictated by Waggoner and when she had completed them without mistake, typed each separately. These were placed in sealed envelopes in the banker's desk at Telluride.

Waggoner asked Miss Carlson to accompany him to Denver to assist him in some business, according to the information, and after having been met by Mrs. Waggoner, she spent some time at the home of a Denver relative.

Miss Carlson said that on August 30, a woman came to her, told her Waggoner wanted her to file two messages, contained in a sealed envelope, at a telephone office here. She said she filed the messages, and then returned the envelope to the woman who met her at a street intersection. Miss Carlson said she had not seen the woman before or since.

WAGGONER EXPECTED REMAIN IN LARAMIE JAIL FOR WEEK YET

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—(AP)—C. D. Waggoner, president of the Bank of Telluride, Colo., today was indicted by a federal grand jury for mail fraud in connection with the manipulation of the $500,000 New York banks on fake telegrams.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—(AP)—C. E. Dowd, cashier of the Bank of Telluride, Colo., arrived here today in obedience to a federal subpoena requiring his appearance before the grand jury investigating the method by which C. D. Waggoner defrauded six New York banks out of $500,000.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Although he was one step closer to a final trial for his $500,000 manipulation at the expense of six New York banks, it appeared likely today that C. D. Waggoner, president of the closed bank of Telluride, Colo., would remain in the Laramie county jail here for perhaps a week.

Chained to a deputy sheriff, Waggoner was brought here yesterday from Newcastle, Wyo., where he was arrested Tuesday following discovery of his puzzling half million dollars transaction.

After a day of discussion between Waggoner, his counsel and relatives of the banker, A. D. Walton, United States attorney, announced the next move in Waggoner's case would be held up pending further action of New York authorities.

The attorney expected an indictment to be returned against Waggoner by a New York federal grand jury, and he said he would await receipt of the indictment and perhaps a bench warrant before holding a hearing here on the removal order already received.

PRESIDENT HERBERT HOOVER HAS THIS TO SAY ABOUT NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

"The economic, social and international value of advertising are now so generally understood that I need not enlarge upon them, but in conveying to you my cordial best wishes for a successful convention of the International Advertising Association, I should like you to know that I estimate its ethical value as one of equal importance.

"The reiterated act of placing one's commercial aims before the public in cold type, day after day, compels one to subject his own motives to a criticism as severe as that which he expects from the public scrutiny.

"The noteworthy advance in the ethics of business, easily perceptible in the last twenty years, is in no small measure due to the self-examination cheerfully exacted of themselves by business men in their practice of the art of advertising."

When a Newspaper Travels the "Long Road" to Success It Shortens the Way For the Advertiser

When a newspaper that has been established upon sound principles -- has the courage and patience to let the passage of years prove its merit.

When it stands the test of worth, of service, of dependability, year after year.

Building carefully and unhurriedly; winning confidence over the long road.

Then that newspaper shortens the way to sales for the advertisers using its columns.

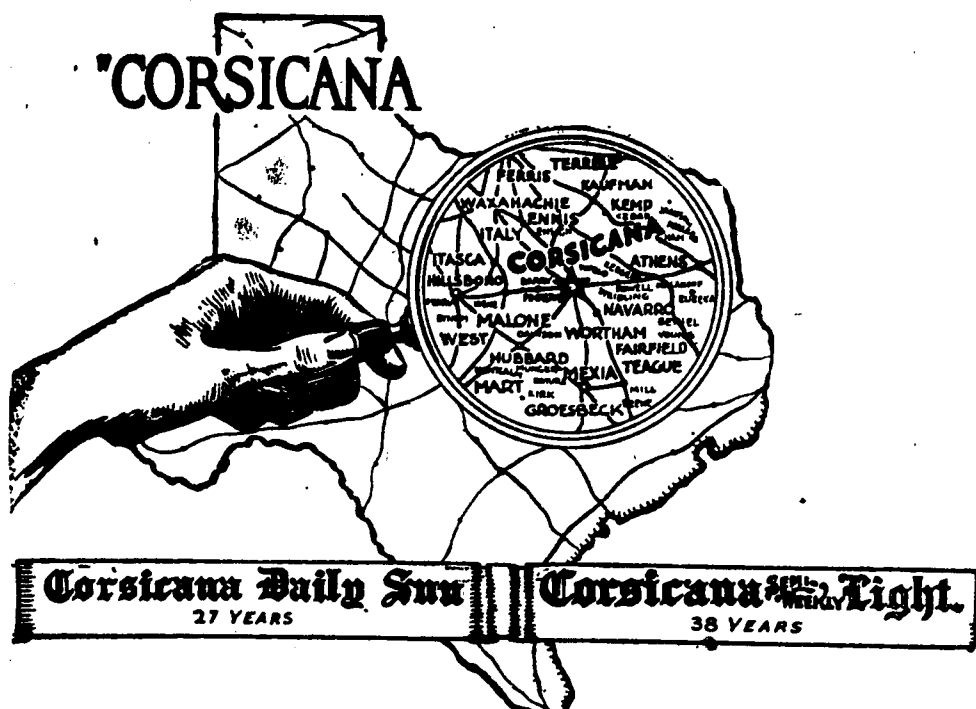

The character of such a newspaper is bound to add to the value of an advertiser's message.

For the newspaper that travels the long road to success---that builds permanently and substantially --- shortens the way for the advertiser.

Advertising is the most powerful searchlight known to business. It focuses the attention of a community or a continent on a particular product. It gives that product the advantages of a widespread test by the buying public. But it cannot persuade that public to buy any article it has tested and found wanting.

Manufacturers and merchants know this. They know also that advertising an unworthy product does only one thing; it brings magnified attention to its deficiencies. Therefore, before they undertake extensive or consistent advertising, they make sure their product is right.

Consistent advertising is your best assurance of value and worth. It is fair evidence that the advertiser is offering a good product which has been thoroughly tested and approved. Your advertising is a service to your friends, and --- an invitation to others to become your friends.

Ex-President Calvin Coolidge

Ex-President Calvin Coolidge Has This to Say About Newspaper Advertising:

"Advertising creates and changes the foundation of all popular action, public sentiment or public opinion—Advertising has become a great business."
"When we stop to consider the part which advertising plays in the modern life of production and trade we see that basically it is that of education."
"It is to be seen that advertising is not economic waste. It ministers to the true development of trade."
"It informs its readers of the existence and nature of commodities by explaining the advantages to be derived from their use and creates for them a wider demand. It makes new thoughts, new desires, and new actions. By changing the attitude of mind it changes the material condition of the people. Somewhere I have seen ascribed to Abraham Lincoln the statement that 'In this and like communities public sentiment is everything.' With public sentiment nothing can fail; without it nothing can succeed. Advertising creates and changes this foundation of all popular action, public sentiment, or public opinion. It is the most potent influence in adopting and changing the habits and modes of life, affecting what we eat, what we wear, and the work and play of the whole Nation. Formerly it was an axiom that competition was the life of trade. Under the methods of the present day it would seem to be more appropriate to say that advertising is the life of trade."

"In former days goods were expected to sell themselves. Oftentimes they were carried about from door to door. Otherwise, they were displayed on the shelves and counters of the merchant. The public were supposed to know of these sources of supply and depend on themselves for their knowledge of what was to be sold. Modern business could neither have been created nor can it be maintained on any such system. It constantly requires publicity. It is not enough that goods are made, a demand for them must also be made. It is on this foundation of enlarging production through the demands created by advertising that the success of the American industrial system rests."

POLLARD DECIDES TO RESUME PRIVATE PRACTICE IN AUSTIN

AUSTIN, Sept. 13. (AP)—Attorney General Claude Pollard today sent his resignation to Governor Dan Moody. He said he would enter the private practice of law in Austin.

The resignation is effective next Tuesday. Governor Dan Moody indicated he would appoint Pollard's successor not later than tomorrow.

"While I sincerely regret to retire from the public service, the urge of obligation to properly meet personal responsibilities impels me to re-enter the general practice of my profession in order to do so," General Pollard wrote Governor Moody.

"This is a great office and one through the proper administration of which a wonderful service to the people may be rendered. It presents through its capabilities for public good, a fascinating appeal to my innate desire to serve the people of Texas. I have strived during my administration of it to render impartial, prompt, and courteous service to all of the people, and I relinquish its duties regretfully."

Although he said he had received "requests from every portion of the state" that he become a candidate for governor in next year's primary, he said his ambition "is and always has been to progress in the study and practice of my profession."

However, he said that "the possibility that I might by entertaining the campaign become its chief executive is a hope not easy to relinquish."

(Dad) Kennemore, 74-year-old native of Georgia, but resident of Navarro county for practically half a century, is the veteran, if the veterans as far as remaining at the Navarro county courthouse is concerned. He is the janitor there and has been since the official family moved into the new courthouse, June 10, 1908.

"Officials, deputies and politicians may come and go, but Dad stays," is the way one veteran observer recently put it.

"What a book Dad could write if he would put down everything he has seen and heard about this courthouse," one official said, who has been in office a short time. It happened that another former official was standing near. "You wouldn't do that would you, Dad?" he queried.

Dad's blue eyes twinkled, and he said, "Nope, I wouldn't do that; that would never do." He said that he had seen many things that he had never breathed and never would.

Prior to coming to the courthouse, Dad lived in the Purdon community and blacksmithed and farmed. He was working on a bridge gang when he was appointed. He was called by C. J. Lister, who was county judge at that time, now a lawyer here and president of the Corsicana chamber of commerce, and A. M. Milligan, capitalist, vice president of the First National bank and big land owner, was one of the commissioners.

"Lots of things have happened about here that nobody ever knew except me," Dad mused. "Many things done you would never have dreamed."

Dad is bent now—the years taking their toll, but he is still cheerful and can be heard singing and humming about his sweeping on the various floors. He has a colored assistant now—he can't do the work of former years, and he has to sit down and rest pretty often. Rheumatism is bothering him and some of his fingers have been drawn out of shape.

Dad is a musician and a fiddle-maker. He has made scores of fiddles in his life, but during the last few months, he has about quit "fiddlin'" as his fingers are too stiff and crooked. His eyes sparkled and he smiled, "I have fiddled for many a dance in my time."

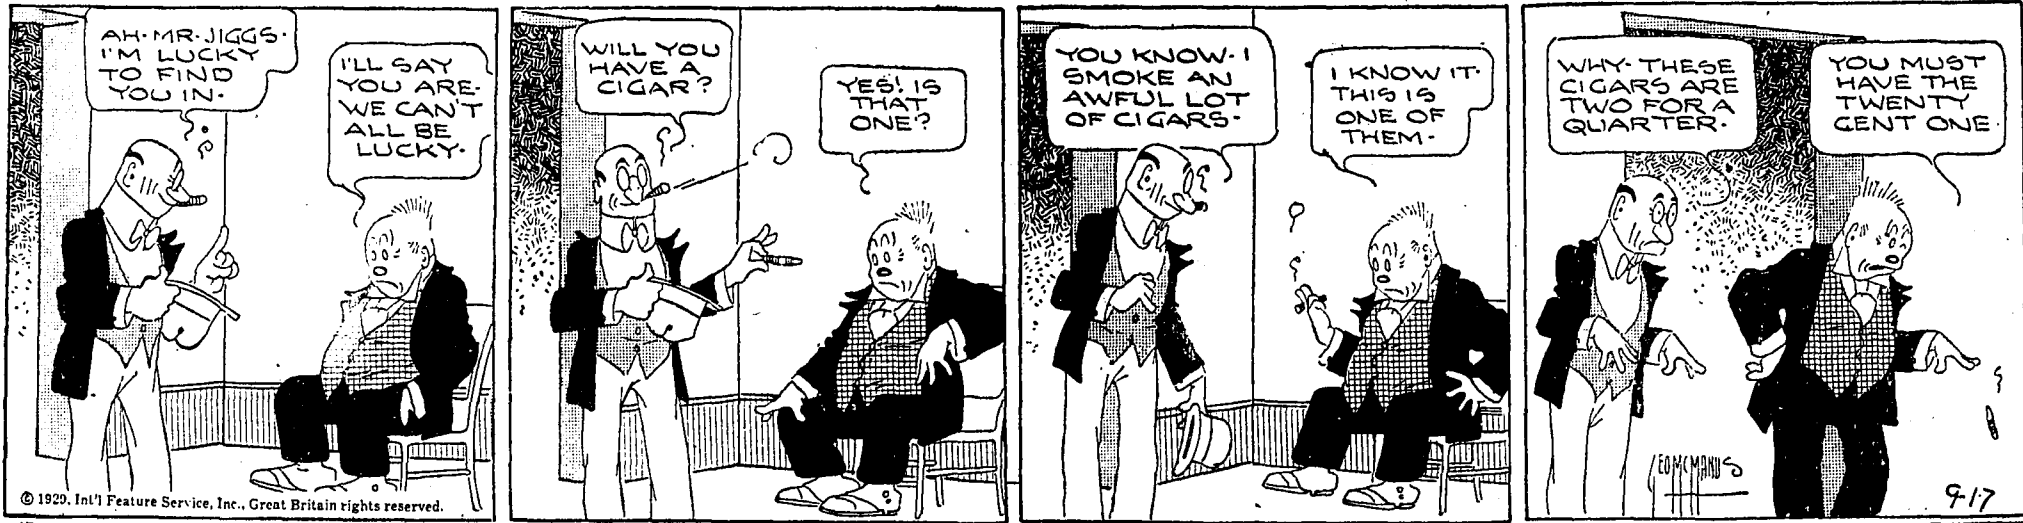

"I don't feel like making fiddles now and rest when I am off from work," Dad replied when queried.

NAVAL ARMAMENTS CONTROL ONE OF OUTSTANDING EVENTS OF WORLD DURING PAST WEEK

By FRANK HAVILAND KING
(Cable Editor, Associated Press.)
The world is on the threshold of a new epoch of international control of armaments, following developments of an eventful week.

Official announcement that Prime Minister Ramsey MacDonald of Great Britain will sail Sept. 28 for a visit with President Hoover means that after years of wrangling John Bull and Uncle Sam have at last reached agreement in principle on naval power and the relative strength to be attained by sea forces of the two nations.

But the British Labor statesman's visit to Washington is even more significant. It is a preliminary step to the calling of another world disarmament conference to deal with land and air armaments as well as navies. France, Italy, Japan and other powers will be represented.

Disarmament news overshadowed other world events of the week. Even the Geneva, where by proposing a world economic conference and a two-years "truce" in the building of tariff walls around continental countries, Great Britain and France acted jointly in a new step toward the proposed federation of European countries along lines of the United States of America.

Other League of Nations work of the week included final approval of the protocol enabling the United States to adhere, with reservations, to the world court. Two Americans have been named members of the organization committee of the International Bank to be set up under the Owen D. Young reparations plan. Liberia asked for an international commission, with the United States represented, to investigate whether slavery exists in the African republic.

China threatened to stir up trouble at Geneva in an indirect effort to reopen the question of abolition of extraterritoriality in her domain. She still has her hands full in Manchuria where another Russo-Chinese flareup has occurred. Russia claims China blocks all efforts to settle the Chinese Eastern Railway dispute.

Dictator Mussolini is in the news again by divesting himself of seven cabinet posts at one stroke of the pen. Now he holds only one, minister of the interior, as the beginning of the "year VIII" of the Fascist era approaches.

Britannia rules the speedways of the air. Squadron Leader Oriber set a new world's record on Tuesday at 555.8 miles an hour. Thursday he tried again and recorded 357.7, which is just a fraction under flying at six miles a minute.

LUMBER AND MILLWORK
By CHARLES HAGINS
CLOPTON and HAGINS Planing Mill
Modern methods have made it practical, indeed essential, that standard sizes of lumber should be sought and fractional lengths avoided. Otherwise your lumber expense will be far more than it should be.
Any reliable lumber retailer can be of great assistance to the builder who proposes to select his own materials.
It should be known that some mills do better work than others. Some mills use better workmen and have better workmen with the aim to do the very best work. Certainly, the best grade of materials and the best workmanship in combination result in a rather high-priced product. But there are degrees of quality, and the small house-builder should insist upon good materials and good workmanship if he pays fair prices.
Millwork is sometimes designed especially for the building. Mouldings are struck off to follow special profiles prepared by the architect. The fittings, mantelpieces, bookcases and cupboards are all particularly designed for particular places they are to occupy and to meet particular requirements of the home builder. This involves special millwork, and the cost is accordingly high.
But, as a consequence of modern methods and quantities of production, fittings may be obtained out of stock which will be quite as satisfying to the fastidious householder as ready-made clothes are to the fastidious dresser of small means. And we maintain that ready-made clothes are satisfactory in most instances and that fittings can be obtained by persons not too disapprobation. The fittings from ready-made stock designs are low in cost and generally very acceptable to the person whose building expense is limited. Fortunately the stock designs are often of the finest character, having been expertly designed to the end that they suffer little or at all by comparison with specially designed millwork.
For persons with limited building budgets, there should be no question about using ready-made mouldings and fittings. Good stock millwork, carefully selected, of the required size and of good appearance, there is no good reason to hesitate in buying them.
The tendency is to improve stock millwork, and every year it is being improved. Recently, some of the large woodworking companies have turned out beautiful and distinctive moulding designs which may be obtained for a reasonably low price.
But all stock millwork is not well designed nor of good quality. Even the best quality stock millwork are sometimes forced to turn out a very cheap grade of millwork.

METHODS OF BUILDING
After you have made up your mind to build, have completed your financing arrangements and decided upon the sort of house you want, there remains to be determined what method of building you will follow.
You will allow the architect to take full charge of the building, letting the contractor, buying the materials and supervising the construction? That is one way, and a very good way it is in Memphis and other cities of the South. Many architects will undertake the prerogative of the general contractor along with their work as designers and experts in home-building, and as a rule they can give very satisfactory results both of workmanship and ultimate cost. The contracting architect or the general contractor will assume responsibility for the entire job at a fixed and agreed upon price, with the provision that alterations and additions are to cost "extra." Either method is quite satisfactory. The best way to build is to turn the job over to a man whose business it is to give his clients exactly what they want.
Another method of building is by employing day labor, which means engaging a contractor or builder to supervise the work and supply the material and labor. Usually this contractor or builder makes a cost charge to which is added a percentage or lump sum for his profit. This way is a good way to build, but if you are working on a narrow margin of money, it is doubtful if you have no way of being certain that the final cost is going to be. More than likely it will be more than you figured on. The best you can do in advance if you employ this method is to estimate the cost in a general way and hope that it won't be much more than your estimate.

A third method is one frequently employed by practical men who know what they want and prefer to make sure of getting it by doing it themselves. The home-builder hires his own carpenters, buys his own materials and is on the job personally to see that the home is built to suit his own mind. Many small homes are built this way, and many of them are very creditable jobs. But more of them are not. It is not a very certain method, frequently turning out badly because of sketchy, amateurish planning in the first place, or because the builder has depended too much upon the advice of carpenters who know more of practical carpentry than of house building.
This last is likely to be an expensive method, too, unless the builder first provides himself with a good set of plans. If such plans are obtained and rigidly followed, if too much stock is not placed in the advice of the carpenter who is not a designer, money may be saved. But be sure of the plans. If you are making ready to supervise your own building, go first to a good architect, get your information and plans from him, and then start work.
On the whole, the contract method is best for the small home-builder. That is to say, the contracting architect or general contractor can give you all you expect, for a price known in advance, with the least annoyance to yourself.

Today's home is a sanctuary—an affair of mood and atmosphere, rather than of walls and floors and ceilings—an escape from the shrill pace of modern life—an agency for the cultivation of the things of the mind and the spirit, as well as a shelter.
